HC - Further Information

Please read the following to help prepare for your training

Eligibility

To be eligible for a Heavy Combination Licence you need to have held a MR or HR licence for a minimum of 12 months consistently.

The difference between a HC A, HR B & HR Open

HC A – This is an automatic only truck licence.

HC B – This licence is often referred to as a 'restricted' or 'synchromesh' licence. This licence allows you to drive trucks that are either automatic or manual.

HC Open – This licence is often referred to as an 'unrestricted' or 'road ranger' licence. This licence allows you to drive automatic and manual trucks as well as double clutch manual.

Not sure which package to buy?

You can book in for hourly training at $150 per hour. If you're not sure which package you'll need, you can book in for an hour training to get a better idea, our experienced trainers can then recommend a package to suit.

Heavy Vehicle Knowledge Test

To upgrade to a HC licence, you must have already a MR or HR licence, which means that you do not need to complete the Heavy Vehicle Knowledge Test, as you would have already completed it earlier.

What you can drive with an CR licence

Drive a truck or bus (including a prime mover or a mobile crane) over 8.0 ton GVM with 3 or more axles or an articulated bus (a bus that can bend in the middle). Note: You may also tow a trailer more than a maximum weight of 9t GVM.

Medical Certificates

If you have a car licence with a medical condition, you'll need to get your medical certificate updated to cover an HC licence prior to starting your training. Make sure you always keep your medical certificate on you when driving. If you haven't updated your medical certificate, you are not able to drive the truck and forfeit any fees paid.

Cancellation Policy

Shift requires 24 hours' notice to cancel a lesson or 48 hours' notice to cancel a test otherwise the full fee will be payable. Any refunds will incur a $50 administration charge.
